Bug Fixes

Changes to Organisation/Organisation Unit of your own user account does not apply

CLS-13436| 80251

Problem

An issue was found where if you modify your own user account's organisation/org unit, the system would allow you to do so and save the page but would not actually apply the update.

Fix

Added a new tenant setting which will allow a tenant or super administrator to edit their own organisation the edit account page. If turned on this will allow the saving of the page and will correctly change the organisation of the user. If turned your own organisation as an admin will not be editable.

Enhancements

Catalogue Item importer to accept "Program" type

CLS-13500 | 81436

Problem

Customers who use the catalogue item importer to update their CI's found current type restrictions were too tight, preventing them from updating existing Programs.

A quick investigation has found that there is good reason for restricting the type, and so it is better to update the Importer to allow "Program" as one of the updateable types rather than removing the mandatory restriction on the field altogether.

Solution

Program is now accepted as one of the Types of CI in the import template, but will only allow the update of matching programs. It will not import any new Programs as that level of architectural rework was not feasible in the scope of this ticket. The template itself and wordings in the help text within it were also updated. Please download the new template from the Importer page if using this feature.
